

I am against allowing cell phone use on commercial airline flights. The conditions aboard these flights are stressful enough without adding the annoyance of cell phones.

I see no compelling need to use cell phones during a flight.